Why Do Cat Owners Live Longer?

Most people think that cats do nothing, are lazy and do nothing but eat and sleep...

It is not so!

Do you know what a cat's mission is?

All cats have the power, every day, to remove the negative energy accumulated in our body... as soon as we fall asleep, they absorb that energy. If there is more than one person in the family, and only one cat, it can accumulate an excessive amount of negativity by absorbing energy from so many people...

When they sleep, the cat's body releases the negativity it takes away from us. If we are too stressed, they may not have enough time to release all that negative energy, and so, as a result, it accumulates as fat, until they can release it. So, they get fat and you think it was the food you were feeding them... or because they don't move enough... and the truth is, they don't. It is nice to have more than one cat in the house, so that the weight is divided between them.

They also protect us during the night, so that no unwanted spirits enter our house or our room while we sleep... That's why they like to sleep in our bed. And if they think we're fine, they won't sleep with us. If there was something strange around us, they jump into our bed and protect us... If a person comes to our house, and the cats feel that that person is there to harm us or that he is bad, the cats surround us to "protect" us...

If you don't have cats, and a stray cat comes into your house and adopts it as a home, it's because you need a cat at that particular time... So the stray cat volunteered to help you. Thank the cat for choosing your home for that job. If you have other cats and can't keep the stray cat, find a place for him. The cat came for a reason unknown to us on a physical level, and in dreams you can see the reason for the appearance of the cat at that moment. There may be a debt, some karma he has to pay... "So don't freak out or frighten the cat." Well, "he" will have to come back, one way or another, to fulfill this obligation...

Cats heal us.

Cats are adorable creatures, and they love their owners above all else, but they have a different way of loving...

Their love is true, so don't doubt it. They are our great and true friends and above all good companions

Catch It, Catch What?( David Quant)

“Catch it while it’s here, catch the right moment”,

An illusion that keeps us from doing so much but still we uphold it,

The perfect moment doesn’t exist,

It’s not a swing that either you hit it or you miss,

It’s always the right to do right,

It’s never late to have faith,

If He waited on the right time to forgive,

There’s nor telling how we’d live,

There’s no telling where we’d be, or the future that we’ would see,

To step out and actually live, instead of sheltering in your head,

Produces courage over the fear of opposition, danger or threats,

There’s goals to be accomplished,

Lives to be touched,

Dreams to be realized

Purpose to fulfill

Forget the “right moment”
